

Security boundary and retained trust

Contract invariants are conditional properties, not proof of biological or infrastructure correctness

